THE SILVER BOOM.

A New York dispatch of the 25th instant says: "Speculators are now talking of a possible panic and the money scare of last week is taken as not merely an incident, but as possibly a premonitory symptom of worse to come. Everything dealt in on Wall street is lower than one week ago, except silver bullion certificates and properties that are directly affected by silver." The certificates in the first two days of last week, says the International Mining Review, advanced 4 1/2 cents, and notwithstanding the phenomenal scarcity of money and the consequent high interest rate, they closed within a fraction of the top price. Denver & Rio Grande, the only railway shares, with one exception, which show a net advance for the week, represent a property which traverses silver mining territory, and rise in the white metal may fairly be expected to open up new mines and thus bring prosperity to the railroad. Then we have a slight advance in common stock of the Silver Mercury Company, one of the old but forgotten speculative favorites. As a revival of silver mining would stimulate the demand for mercury, we may fairly assume that the new silver law is responsible for the strength of this also.

HALF FAKE.

The delegates to the Democratic State Convention at Reno will be allowed to ride at half fare on the Central Pacific railroad. That is, they will pay full fare coming and receive a free ticket to return.—JOURNAL.

Why didn't the Reno Journal, which printed the above article that the same country was selected to delegates to the Republican State Convention? Does the Journal desire to convey the idea that the railroad company discriminates against Republican and in favor of Democratic Conventions?—Silver State.

Don't be over sensitive. The JOURNAL mentioned the same matter in connection with the Republican delegates a week before the publication of the above gratuitous notice, which was meant in all kindness to the self-sacrificing gentlemen who will travel such long distances upon such a fruitless mission as aiding in the construction of a Democratic State ticket.

Henry M. Stanley, while in Paris, surprised Frenchmen by expressing the opinion that M. Ribot made a good bargain in the Anglo-French agreement. Stanley believes that had Lord Salisbury known Nigeria better he would not have signed the agreement. He applauds the scheme for a trans-Saharan railway and thinks the road will cost more than 200,000,000 francs and can be built in ten years.

We hope the Senate will pass a bill requiring Supt. H. M. Yerington, of the Virginia & Truckee Railroad, to cast a vote in the State just once, or prohibit him from interfering in political matters.

Mr. H. M. Yerington has never cast a vote in Nevada, but he seems to have more "influence" in political matters than any other two men, except Cleveland and Walcott.

This is California's Admission Day, and she will celebrate in a manner befitting such a great and glorious State. All honor to the Pioneers and Native Sons.

The election in Maine yesterday resulted in favor of the Republican ticket as usual, and Speaker Reed was elected by an increased majority.

Biographical.

Transcript: Thomas P. Hawley is a native of Indiana, having been born in Ripley county just sixty years ago. In 1852 he crossed the plains and located at Placerville, in this State. He remained in El Dorado county, engaged in mining a little over a year, and then removed to Nevada City, where he lived for fifteen years. Until 1865 he worked as a miner, but in the latter year obtained employment in the County Clerk's office and at once began to study law. Five years later he was admitted to the bar, and was soon in possession of a good practice. The Bar of Nevada county at that time a very able one, comprising such men as William M. Stewart, now Senator from Nevada; Niles Searles, late Chief Justice of this State; David Baldwin, A. C. Niles, Aaron A. Sargent, A. B. Dibble and others. In 1863 Mr. Hawley was elected District Attorney of the county, serving a term of two years. In 1868 he removed to the State of Nevada, making his home at Hamilton, White Pine county. In 1872 he was elected a Justice of the Supreme Court, and in 1874 became Chief Justice. In 1879 he was again elected to the Supreme Bench. In politics Judge Hawley has been a Republican ever since the organization of the party. In 1838 he was married to Miss Endora Merrill, daughter of Colonel John T. Merrill, of Charleston, S. C. Their union has been blessed with several children.

How Can This Be?

Central Nevada: The Holmes Mining Company, Camden, is mining silver ore worth $25, with average concentration of 88 per cent. Camden is situated in what might be termed a desert, where water and fuel are scarce, and natural facilities limited for working ore, yet we find this company mining and milling at a profit, its worth only $35 a ton and saving but 88 per cent. of the battery assay. What is the matter with this, with abundance of water, a mountain of ore, opened up by tunnels, worth from $35 up to $60 a ton, located within twelve miles of the Central Pacific railroad, and without compelled to transport its ore to distant smelters?

For Sleeplessness.

It is claimed that the most potent and most perfect remedy for sleeplessness is to drink hot water. It once awakens in the night, as hopelessly wide awake as if galvanized or electrified with vital activity, an infallible remedy is a glass of perfectly hot—not warm—water. It can be heated over the gas, or over a spirit lamp, and sipped while almost at boiling heat, and one who tries it will find himself going off to sleep like an infant, and getting, too, the most restful and peaceful sleep imaginable.

Supt. H. M. Yerington was a passenger for the Bay last night. He must be on business for both of the political conventions of California have made their conventions.

WOMEN AND MICE.

The reason why a woman is afraid of a mouse is a profound mystery—indeed, it has never been very clearly proven that she is. But some women are constantly in such a nervous, irritable condition that the slightest thing annoys and startles them. The cause of this unfortunate state of affairs is usually some functional derangement; some derangement or peculiar weakness incident to her sex; or it may be due to inflammation, ulceration or displacement of some of the pelvic viscera, or to From organic lesions peculiar to her sex. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive remedy, so certain in its curative results that it manufactures a guarantee of its giving satisfaction in every case, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded. As a favorite Prescription, it cures nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other nervous symptoms attendant upon disease of the womb. It is truly a refreshing sleep and relieves anxiety and dependency.

A Maine Fish Taro.

A good fish story is told regarding a recent party while at Moosehead. "It was 'high 12,' the sun was darting its rays upon the clouds above them, while the condensed vapor was dropping down as they angled from the steamer's sides, rocked by the billows of the lake. A sudden jerk upon the line of one of the party told him that business had begun. The guide was standing near, and with a stentorian voice exclaimed: 'Hold him! don't lose him! he is actually a five footer, (meaning the fish). As soon as hooked this monster (with spots) darted for somewhere known only to those dwelling beneath the surface of the lake, and whether he ever arrived there is still clouded in mystery. "One thing is positive, he reeled off 800 feet of line, tore it from the rod and left the fisherman with only a portion of the tackle. Others in the boat were anxious spectators, and as the line parted company with rod and man they caught him in their arms, gently bore him to the cabin and headed the boat for shore. By good nursing he in a few moments regained consciousness and expressed himself as very grateful to his rescuers for saving him from a cold bath in the waters of this beautiful lake. It is evident that larger boats, stouter lines and more expensive apparatus must be used to handle these monsters of the deep."—Lewiston Journal.

An Enchanted House.

A house in the Avenue de Saxe at Lyons is just now exercising the minds of the more superstitious section of the inhabitants to an extraordinary extent. Every evening large crowds take up a position in front of the building, which they contemplate with curiosity not unmixed with awe, and its tenants are leading anything but a happy life. The house is acquiring rapidly a reputation for being haunted, or, as the people call it, "enchanted," since at intervals the sounds of mysterious rappings and tapings—which at last grew so strong as to cause the very planks and windows to quack and shake—penetrate even to the ears of the outside public.

The police have overhauled the place, peeped into all the cupboards, tried the ceilings and walls and put the furniture into a general state of confusion without arriving at any solution of the mystery, though there was some method in the antics of the "ghost," who treated himself to a spell of rest while the inspector was on the spot. Nothing daunted, however, the police are continuing their efforts actively, and as they are determined to detect the author of this grim joke it is probable that the worthy Lyonaise will soon be initiated into the mysteries of the maison enchantée.—Paris Letter.

Her Duel with the Doctor.

An extraordinary duel is reported to have taken place in Vienna. A few days ago a girl, aged 19, challenged a young doctor who had offended one of her friends and refused to apologize. He was challenged in the usual way by two seconds, a student and an officer of reserves, and when he ridiculed the idea the girl threatened to horsewhip him publicly.

The challenge was then accepted and a meeting, with seconds and doctors, took place in a hired room in a Vienna suburb. All the rules for a duel with swords were strictly observed. The doctor first acted on the defensive, but was soon obliged to fight in earnest, and left off after the second round with a wound in the left side, which was declared not to be dangerous. The girl, a Croatian educated in South America, is said by the seconds to be the best fencer they ever saw. After wounding her adversary she left the place without casting another look at him.—Wiener Tagblatt.

We Have All Met Them.

The season is now at hand when you are apt to run against those two persistent faddists, the horse man and the yachting man. If you escape one of them for a day you are certain to fall a victim to the other. The horse man tells you about his experience. Perhaps he will go so far as to give you a "sure tip" for today. The yachting man, if he owns a boat, describes his rigging for this season and prattles about jibs, center boards, legs, stays, beats to windward and other topics of equal interest to a land lubber. They are rather harmless in their way, these talkative enthusiasts, but they never seem to realize that they may become just a trifle wearisome at times.—New York World.

Garfield's Sons.

James A. Garfield has been spending a few days in this city, having come upon a triple mission. He grows to resemble his father physically, as he is said to be intellectually, more than any of the other children. The resemblance, however, is not so apparent when he is obliged to use his eyes closely, because he has been compelled to wear spectacles. With his brother Harry he has established a law business in Cleveland, and if the clients are all of them men and corporations of such consequence as those whose interests compelled him in part to visit this city the Garfield boys have certainly done amazingly well.—New York Cor. Philadelphia Press.

An Au Sable thief went to a widow's barn the other night and milked the widow's cow. Next morning that poor widow found a pocket book containing $1.17 in the stall and advises for the loser to come forward, prove property, return the milk and get his cash.

Senator Hearst's Washington house contains seventy rooms. So far $170,000 has been spent in furnishing it, and this is said to be only a beginning. Thirty years ago the senator occupied an attic room in a Missouri farm house, where he was working for his board.

A monster crab was landed in a net from a wharf in San Diego by L. C. Bragg. The body measured 16 inches across, while the spread of the pincers was 36 inches. The giant crustacean was ornamented with barnacles of five years' growth.

She Had Done a Good Day's Business.

An ancient Irish dame has a small stand close by the Franklin statue in Printing house square from which she offers to passersby the cool and refreshing lemonade. If there is wind anywhere it always seems to find a funnel up Spruce street, and Boreas was doing some of his best work on his favorite thoroughfare one day.

A young woman in her best bib and tucker, with the inevitable young man, was crossing from the postoffice in the direction of the bridge. A particularly strong puff of wind nearly blew off her hat, bristling with meadow flowers, and all her attention was given to keeping it on her head. The rude breeze, however, took charge of her dress, and as it blew around got entangled with the only three glasses Bridget had on her stand. They fell on the flags, to be simply smashed into smithereens.

For a moment there was silence, then the owner, in pure Hibernian, gave vent to her feelings, and the language was not really ladylike. The young man was, however, equal to the occasion, and diving into his pocket produced and gave to Celtic Hebe a dollar bill. The latter looked at the note for some seconds and then disappeared into that undiscovered country, so far as men are concerned—a woman's pocket.

Jack and Jill had passed on; of this the vendor of cool drinks made certain. She then deliberately took up her bucket of water, dashed it on the ground, picked up her lemons, and folding up her temporary stand made a bee line for home. She had done a good day's business.—New York Tribune.

Mr. Armour and the Bootblack.

A bootblack walked into the office of Mr. Armour. He had none of his outfit with him, but the bootblack was stamped in his face and all over him. He went to the gate where a guard stands between his post and the greatest packer in the world.

"Where's de old man?" asked the arch-in.

The guard told the boy to get out. "You tell de ole man dat I want to see him. I want to see him alone. I don't want to bodder you nor de ole man. But I want to see de ole man, an' I want to see him right off."

Mr. Armour at his desk overheard the ragged request. "Let that boy come in here," he called to the young man at the gate. The arch-in approached Mr. Armour in a business like way. There were no preliminary compliments.

"Say," spoke the arch-in, "I took a nap out dere in de alley, and while I was asleep some o' dem kids from de board o' trade come along and swiped (stole) my kit an' I'm short. I want ter borrow a dollar to buy me a kit an' I'll pay you back on de 'tallment plan. See?"

Mr. Armour handed the boy two silver dollars and told him to go. But the boy handed back one of the dollars and said:

"I doan't want but one. I'm goin' to pay it back, and dere's no use o' a man goin' in deeper'n his head. I allus keep my head above de water."

The truth of the above story is vouched for by one who saw the scene and overheard the conversation.—Chicago Tribune.

Characteristic of Dumas.

A very characteristic letter of Alexander Dumas was received by the director of the Cluny museum, in which the former announces his intention of presenting to the museum the sword of the Marquis de Pescara, which has been lent to him by E. de Beaumont. M. Dumas gives the reason for his liberality as follows: "I had engaged to leave the sword after my death to the Cluny museum, but I know the collectors, amateurs and directors of museums. In their fondness for a rarity they go so far as to wish for the death of those to whom it belongs, especially if they are the heirs. I do not wish to expose your conscience to a painful battle, for it would be sure to fight, perhaps successfully, for the possession of the weapon. I therefore offer you at once the sword of the vanquisher of Pavia and the vanquished of Ravenna. And now, dear sir, as you can no longer see any reason why I should not live a very long time yet, let me assure you that while I live I shall always be your devoted friend. A. DUMAS."

Signing Your Name 100 Miles Away.

One of the marvels of electricity, and one of the most striking of the Edison exhibits at the Paris exposition, was the little instrument which enables the operator to sign a check 100 miles distant. The writing to be transmitted is impressed on soft paper with an ordinary stylus. This is mounted on a cylinder, which, as it revolves, "makes and breaks" the electric current by means of the varying indentations on the paper. At the receiving end of the wire a similar cylinder, moving in accurate synchronism with the other, receives the current on a chemically prepared paper, on which it transcribes the signature in black letters on a white ground.—Exchange.

What He Missed.

Uncle Silas Greening, visiting his niece in the city, was taken one day to see the chrysanthemum show. The old man is of a practical turn and seldom hesitates to speak his mind.

"Well, uncle," said his niece, after their return home, "how did you like the exhibition?"

"Wal, to tell ye the truth, Elviry, I didn't think much on't."

"Why, what was the matter with it?" "Matter? Why, there wasn't so much as a single punkin in the whole show!"—Youth's Companion.

The Work of Writing a Book.

Dumas once said that it was the easiest thing in the world to write a book. You had only to seat yourself in a leather-covered chair at a library table well supplied with blue paper and a certain kind of pen and ink, and proceed to write; but before you began, before you seated yourself or wrote the first word, you should have given ten years of thought to the subject on which you intended to write.—Writer.

A Hint for Nevada Cattlemen.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Jan. 10. We desire to impress upon our Utah readers the fact that beef cattle at Spring Lake will double the present market prices. We mention Utah for the reason that if the alfalfa crop of this year is properly saved it will fatten a majority of the matured steers in the Territory. Hence they should all be held over and bayed for the Spring market. Every farmer in Utah who has sufficient land should buy at once at Spring Lake for the market.

For Recorder.

Wm. B. Daugherty announces himself for County Recorder, subject to the decision of the Republican County Convention. He writes a beautiful hand, is a splendid accountant, understands the laws of the land, and if nominated and elected will make, in fact, a No. 1 official.

Tom Fitch delivered the annual address before the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, at San Francisco, yesterday. ## LOCOMOTIVE FIREMEN.

Their Biennial Convention to be Held in San Francisco.

The second biennial Convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen is to be held in San Francisco this week. James Doughty, of Silver State Lodge, goes as representative of the Humboldt Division, and Horace Johnson, of Truckee Lodge, as representative of the Truckee Division.

The locomotive firemen are the future engineers. They have to serve a long apprenticeship, which tests the metal of which they are made, so that locomotive engineers are, as a general rule, the stoudest, bravest and most reliable body of men in the country.

A special train of seven coaches and a baggage carrying about 300 firemen, who go to the convention as delegates, is on the way West. The convention is international and there are delegates from Canada on the train, and a number from Mexico are on their way from San Francisco. The men are all in the prime of life, able-bodied and inured to hard work and able to read and write and many of them young men of more than ordinary intelligence.

Important to Exhibitors at the Nevada State Fair.

GENERAL OFFICE
SOUTHERN PACIFIC COMPANY,
SAN FRANCISCO, September 8, 1890.

To Agents and Others Interested:

Shipments for exhibition at the Nevada State Fair should be way-billed to Reno at regular rates, consigned to the exhibitor, and charges collected on delivery.

Consignees or exhibitors must surrender to this company's agent when returning shipment, the expense-bill showing charges to the fair, accompanied with certificate of the Secretary of the association, the latter setting forth that the property has been on exhibition and not changed hands, when consignment will be forwarded to original shipping point free of charge. Agent must note on way-bill reference to original bill, also "Inward expense-bill and Secretary's certificate taken up."

Reno agent will refund all charges for transportation to the fair by F 13, attaching thereto original expense-bill, Secretary's certificate and receipt of consignee or exhibitor on form F 77, and forward all to Freight Auditor with daily report in the usual manner.

PERISHABLE FREIGHT.

Consignees or exhibitors who have paid charges to the fair on articles that at its close are found to be worthless by reason of their perishable nature, on surrender of expense-bill, accompanied by certificate of the Secretary of the association, the latter setting forth that property has been on exhibition and not changed hands, and is unfit for return transportation, will receive from this company's agent the amount paid for transportation of the property to the fair.

Reno agent will refund all charges for transportation to the fair by F 13, in the manner as noted above, for shipments returning.

NOTE.—Agents will be particular to count and note on the way-bills, from point to point, the number of head of live stock, whether in carloads or less, loose or in crates, also to see that shippers understand fully that the amount of freight charges to be refunded, upon conditions stated above, will only be such as would cover live stock shipped under contract at freight-train rates. If shippers desire special service, such as passenger train, etc., or place a higher value than live-stock contract calls for, upon their stock, we shall retain, for such special service or extra rate, all charges over and above freight-train contract rates.

Agents will explain to shippers of horses and other live stock the necessity of making consignments to themselves; and, when the man in charge is not the exhibitor, shipment should be consigned to the owner, in case of the party in charge, so that delivery, when necessary, can be made to him.

The above applies only on shipments originating in Nevada.

Shipments from points on lines of Southern Pacific Company in California or Utah will be charged regular rates to Reno. On presentation of certificate from the Secretary of the association, that the property has not changed hands while on exhibition, the agent at Reno will way-bill the property—except if be race horses—to point of shipment free (noting on way-bill "Secretary's certificate taken up"), but will not refund the charges on freight going to Reno. Race horses will be charged for at regular rates, tariff or special, in either direction.

C. J. WILDER,
Freight Auditor.

C. F. BARNUM,
General Freight Agent.

Water Prospect.

A Carson river mill superintendent says that if the snowfall next winter is one-half the average of last, there will be enough accumulated in the mountains, with that left from last winter's fall, to keep all of the river mills in operation throughout next year and he predicts that the billion products of Comstock mines in 1891 will exceed that of 1887. This opinion is based on an expected increase in the ore output of the Gold Hill mines when the flooded levels are drained, and the promising prospect of further developments in the north and middle Comstocks.

Flag for Company C.

Gen. Beaton and Henry Cutting went around town yesterday afternoon and in a few minutes collected $38 to buy a fine silk flag for our Company C. The boys will be delighted when they receive their new star spangled banner.

D. B. BOYD, County Treasurer.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. ## MAKING MILEAGE.

How a Witness From up the River Thought He Was Doing It.

The Winnemucca Silver State says: "The plaintiff and the principal defendants in the big water-suit now being tried here, are wealthy men. This excites the curiosity of some of the win-ners to endeavor to turn their knowledge of dams and ditches to better advantage than they expected to have opportunity to do. One of these witnesses, an honest gentleman, whom we call Bob, with a disposition to take the world easy and grow fat, was noticed walking much brisker than common early in the morning by his friend Dick, who asked him what it meant. 'Why,' he replied, 'I am here on expense, and though times are hard, and money scarce, whisky is as high as it was 20 years ago, and as I haven't the check to place a very high price on my knowledge, all I get is mileage, so much as I dislike the exercise, I travel 25 miles every day and the old man will be surprised when he comes to pay me.' Dick assumed a meditative attitude, and in a restrained voice remarked, 'a new racket in shakedown making, by jiminy.'"

No $12 Cattle in Elko.

The Independent says: There is no truth whatever in the assertion published in the Reno Gazette last week, that Judge Bigelow had offered his cattle for sale at $12 a head. Cattle in Elko county are worth more than that, and the Judge is not so eager to get out of the business as to sell his stock for less than the market price. There are no cattle in this county for sale at $12 a head.

Not long ago, says the Carson Appeal, the Reno Gazette denounced the Appeal for publishing the interview with Tom Riekey, on the ground that it was an injury to the cattle interests of the State. Suppressing the truth can do no good.

It is a fact that the cattle losses in this State were over 90 per cent., and if the Gazette does not now know it it will realize the fact when the Assessors' reports come in.

It is decidedly of more injury to the cattle interests to misquote the price of cattle, for it may result in parties being swindled by unscrupulous buyers. The people who want cattle are buying up everything in a sight, and trying to keep the fact from owners that cattle are advancing. Any man who sells cattle now at less than $22 a head is not acting wisely.

A New House.

A Patterson's new house, on the corner of Stevenson and First streets, Powning's Addition, begins to present an imposing appearance. It is two stories high, and will be fully as handsome a house as that of McNeill's near by, and be an addition to the large number of handsome homes already erected in the P

INSURANCE.

THE

MANHATTAN

Insurance Company.

Assets, $12,000,000.

The history of the past has proven beyond a question that an endowment policy in a life insurance company is a much

BETTER INVESTMENT

Than a savings bank; FIRST, because it is very much safer—as the law of the State of New York requires every life insurance company to keep a

Reserve in First-Class Securities

Equal to its liabilities, dollar for dollar; SECOND, in case of death while making these small deposits, the life insurance company will pay, just when most needed by the family, the

Full Amount

Of the sum insured, amounting to 10, 20, or even 30 times as much as has been deposited; or on the

Return Premium

Plan of the MANHATTAN, they would do even more than this, for they would at death pay the face of the policy and in addition all the deposits (promi-sua) paid, while the savings bank would only return the amounts actually deposited with interest.
Who would not purchase a valuable piece of property—a farm for example—worth $10,000, if he could have $200 years to pay for it, in small sums of $300 per annum with interest on deferred payments and without any tax on it? The $300 per year being only 3 per cent of the $10,000—a sum not much greater than that paid annually for taxes on property in hand, of the same cost, and especially if he could have the further conditions especially stated in the contract, 1st, that if he died while making these payments—even after one only has been made—

No Further Payments Shall be Required

And the full title in fee simple to the entire farm shall at once be given to his family; and 2d, that if at any time after the three years during the twenty years he shall be unable to continue the payments and from sickness or any misfortune, that then he could discontinue any further payments and have in fee simple such portions of the farm as he has paid for; thus, if one-fourth of the payments had been made, he would own one separate fourth of the farm, etc., and at the same time the farm be entirely free from all claims of creditors, under all circumstances, not even to be reached by writ of execution or attachment issued by any court, while if living to the end of the twenty years and the annual payments have been made, the

Entire Property in Fee Simple

is secured.

Now the MANHATTAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY offers all this and more, for instead of offering LAND on these terms, which is often eaten up by legal expenses and fees in case of the death of the purchaser, or swallowed up by a mortgage given to secure deferred payments, thus losing the whole amount paid in and leaving the family destitute, or dependent, it offers a

Specific Bond Secured by Millions ## of First-Class Securities.

Agreeing to pay MONEY on the same terms and conditions as above—the cost per year varying at different ages, but otherwise substantially the same terms as above stated, while the sum to be paid at the end of twenty years will be increased by dividends and compounded interest for the full term, thus making the investment a very PROFITABLE and ADVANTAGEOUS one.

Inquiries concerning the bonds of this company will receive prompt reply if addressed to
